Cuban Revolutionists Committed Outrage Against American Flag.

VOLLEY RETURNED; CUBANS FLED

Taft In Constant Communication With Roosevelt—Actual Intervention on Part of United States Will Be Necessary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Havana, Sept. 21.—Today's issue of the La Discusion publishes a dispatch from Cienfuegos saying that blue jackets from the United States Gunboat Marietta were fired upon by Cuban rebels. The American sailors were at the time engaged in garrisoning the Soledad Sugar estate near Cienfuegos. They returned the volley and the revolutionists fled.

Four more vessels of the American navy have arrived in the port of Havana. They are the battleships Louisiana and Virginia and the cruisers Cleveland and Tacoma. All dropped anchor this morning.

Time for Intervention
A crisis is at hand. The time for the American mediators to take steps toward settling the Cuban quarrels seems to be approaching. Indications today are that Secretary Taft will not be able to settle the difficulties without definite and real American intervention.

Taft is Uncommunicative
Secretary Taft is still uncommunicative, but it is positively known that he has been in frequent communication with President Roosevelt. He is said to have reported that conditions here in Havana are fair, but worse than he expected to find them.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—Advises from Havana today only confirm the feeling which has been entertained here, that the difference between the government of Cuba and insurgent forces are irreconcilable. It was said today in case of intervention one of the first acts of the United States would be the adoption of a policy of concentration, but without the horrors attending the similar policy of General Weyler.

WILL OF RUSSELL SAGE WILL NOT BE CONTESTED

Senator Brackett So Intimated This Morning—Legatees Agree Upon Settlement.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Sept. 21.—Senator Brackett announced today that there would be no contest over Russell Sage's will. The senator intimated that a financial settlement had been effected.

The legatees under the will of Sage are to receive from the executor double the amounts of the legatees and upon these conditions the will is not to be contested. The will has been admitted to probate without contest.

SECRET SESSION OF THE COUNCIL

HELD THIS AFTERNOON IN THE CITY HALL A TWO-THIRTY.

NO ONE ALLOWED IN ROOM

Attorney Fred Burpee Only Outsider Allowed to Listen to Deliberations.

With the entire city awaiting anxiously for the fate of the interurban franchise the members of the common council, with the exception of Alderman Brookhaus of the third ward, are this afternoon holding a star chamber session behind closed doors in the council chamber of the city hall. No outsiders are allowed to even listen at the keyhole while the deliberations of this august body are in progress. It would be "lese majesty" to make any disparaging remarks about the probable action of the deliberations, but it is safe to say that another conference will be necessary between Mr. Clough and the council before he accepts the franchise offered him.

Clough Still Here

Mr. Clough is still in the city, but expects to leave for Chicago and his home in Elvira, O., either tonight or tomorrow morning. He said this morning that he hoped a franchise which he could accept would be granted him as he was anxious to build the road, but that all negotiations or work on construction would be stopped until the question of the franchise was decided one way or the other. Regarding certain phases of the proposed franchise Mr. Clough said he could not allow any changes to be made. The question of paving and carrying freight were two of the ones mentioned. These two were essential to his financing the road and if he was restricted in these the plans to build the interurban would be cancelled. Mr. Clough is anxious to get actual work on the road and the delay in passing the franchise may delay the actual beginning of work until spring.

Not Official

The meeting of the council this afternoon is not a special meeting, but merely a gathering in star chamber session of all the aldermen at the request of the judiciary committee, who have the handling of the franchise. The presence of City Attorney Maxfield and Attorney Burpee leads to the idea that a new franchise is being drawn up which will be presented to Mr. Clough as the ultimatum of the council as regards what it will allow. Many of the aldermen claim they are for the road, but that they are like the man buying a horse—they want to get as much as they can for their money. This is true, but when a hundred-dollar horse is offered for thirty dollars why stop to bargain? There is not much sense in such an argument.

Throughout the County
There is considerable interest throughout the county and as far as Stoughton and Madison over the possible fate of the franchise. The people in the country want the franchise passed so the road can be built and frequent telephatic in the Gazette of the day asking for information as to the matter. It is not probable that the council can take any official action on the question until their next regular council meetings which will be a week from Monday night.

KICKED IN FACE BY HORSE; EYE SAVED

John Terwilliger of Town of La Prairie Brought to Dr. Mills' Office This Morning.

While at work this morning John Terwilliger of the town of La Prairie was kicked in the face by a vicious horse. The hoof struck directly over the left eye, making a terrible appearing wound. Mr. Terwilliger was hurried to the city and taken to the office of Dr. James Mills, where the wound was dressed. The physician found a gash two and a half inches in length, running the entire distance above the eye and around the outer angle. A portion of the upper lid was cut off and the periorbitum or covering of the eye bone broken off. The eyeball escaped any injury and Dr. Mills expects to save the sight. Though no bone was broken, the injury is as serious as a break.

GREWSOME FIND OF A YOUNG FISHERMAN

Basket Discovered Near Jackson Street Bridge With Strange Burden.

While crossing the Jackson street bridge this morning a small boy noticed something peculiar about a peach basket lying on the edge of the water just above the bridge. He communicated with W. T. Zoble who in turn informed the police. Officer Champion was sent to investigate and took the basket in charge about 8 o'clock this morning. The basket was an ordinary one of the peach variety and contained a fetus. The basket had probably been placed in the river under the belief that it would float down and disappear. How far it had come before its discovery it is impossible to tell. The police as yet have no clues to who placed it there.

INSANE STRANGER'S IDENTITY SETTLED

Man Recently Sent to Mendota from Here Is Son of Leavenworth, Kas., Fire Department Chief.

By letter this morning Marshal Appleby practically established the identity of the insane stranger recently sent from here to the state hospital at Mendota. It will be remembered the man hung about the residence of Dean E. M. McGinnis for a day or so, screaming and wailing, and on complaint of residents in that part of the city was taken in charge by the police. Six men were kept busy holding him while the arrest was being made and the man's mind was pronounced unbalanced after an examination in county court. The man was a stranger in the city and refused to or could not reveal his identity. There were no papers or letters about his person, only an address: 22 Burns, 226 Delaware street, Leavenworth, Kas. Chief Appleby wrote to this address, relating the sad case and giving a description of the man. Today he received an answer stating that the unknown man was no doubt the son of Patrick Burns, writer of the letter. He said the young man had been away from home three years and about a month ago his mother received a letter from him stating that he would be home this fall. The epistle was said to have been very rational and reported young Burns in good health. Patrick Burns has been Chief of the Fire Department in Leavenworth seventeen years.

JOHN ENRIGHT IS GREATLY HONORED

APPOINTED PRIVATE SECRETARY TO GOVERNOR OF PHILIPPINES.

PROMOTION WAS VERY RAPID

Janesville Boy Who Is Head of the Civil Service Department of the Islands.

Mrs. Patrick Enright this morning received a cablegram from her son, John E. Enright, announcing that he had just been appointed private secretary to Governor General James F. Smith, the new head of the Philippine government. Mr. Enright's advancement to such an important position has been most rapid and his many Janesville friends rejoice with his mother and relatives over the signal honor that has been conferred upon him. The private secretaryship gives Mr. Enright a position second to none in the civil service list of the Philippines.

John Enright
John E. Enright is a Janesville product. He graduated from the high school with the class of 1888 and since graduation has held many positions of trust in Chicago, in Alaska, and the Philippines. For several years he was employed in the office of H. E. Smith of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road in Chicago as stenographer, resigning this position to go to the Klondike, where he staid for several years, acting as assistant civil engineer for a large party of government engineers. Throughout his entire career he has shown remarkable ability and wherever employed has been given positions of trust.

In the Philippines
He went to the Philippine Islands October 18, 1900, as a private in Company M, 6th United States Infantry, and served with his regiment in northern Luzon until January, 1901, and was then detailed for special duty as stenographer at headquarters of Major General Lloyd Wheaton, Department of Northern Luzon, Manila. He was discharged from the military service as a result of the civil service examination and appointed clerk in the office of the Philippine civil service board on May 18, 1901, and promoted through various grades and appointed chief clerk of the civil service board October 1, 1902; acting secretary and a member of the board from April to October, 1903, during absence of chairman in the United States. He remained with the civil service board until November 6, 1905, when he was appointed private secretary to Commissioner James F. Smith, the present governor.

OWNS BOTH RAILWAY AND MINING STOCKS

Case, Similar to Pennsylvania Coal Road Suits, Brought Against James J. Hill.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 21.—Much interest is manifested in the Hastings coal rate case, which came up for hearing before the railroad commission today. James J. Hill has been summoned to appear before the commission and tell about his Great Northern road, his Northern Minnesota iron mines, and their relation to the new federal law governing railroads. The question at issue is whether the new law is violated by the personal holdings of Mr. Hill in iron properties and at the same time in a controlling interest in the Great Northern, which hauls ore from the mines. The question is practically the same as that involved in the case of the coal-carrying roads of Pennsylvania, and which was decided adversely to the railroads.

CAR OF DYNAMITE BLEW UP, KILLING FIFTEEN

Accident In Jellico, Tenn., Yards Of Louisville & Nashville Railroad—Business Section Of City Destroyed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 21.—Fifteen people are believed to have been killed and probably thirty injured and almost the entire business section of Jellico, Tenn., wrecked by a terrific explosion of dynamite early today in a car in the yards of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. It is not believed that any prominent white people are included in the dead list.

Authentic Particulars Jellico, Tenn., Sept. 21.—Nine persons, three white and six colored, were killed and about fifty others injured, a score seriously. Property loss estimated at a million dollars; five hundred people rendered homeless; every business house and a large number of dwellings either totally wrecked or badly damaged. Such are the results of the terrific explosion of the carload of dynamite in the Louisville & Nashville railroad yards here early today. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been the cause of the explosion.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON MAY CHALLENGE ONCE MORE

Will Probably Offer To Race For American Cup Under Two Different Conditions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 21.—A dispatch from London says that Sir Thomas Lipton sails for New York today on the White Star liner Celtic. While business is the object of his trip to the United States, the America's cup matters undoubtedly will receive his attention during his stay on this side. It is believed that Sir Thomas is as keen as ever on the matter of a challenge. Yachtsmen here are awaiting his arrival with the greatest interest, for rumor has it that the Irish baronet will put the matter of a challenge directly up to the New York Yacht club.

It is said that Sir Thomas is prepared to make two propositions regarding a challenge and is willing to carry out either. In the first place he is willing to challenge under the present rule of measurement and if the challenge is accepted will build a new yacht. Another proposition that it is understood that Sir Thomas will present is to race with Shamrock III, under the new rules. The stated of gift states that a beaten boat cannot race again for the cup until two years have elapsed. Shamrock was beaten three years ago and is again eligible as a challenger. Under the new rules Shamrock III would fare very well, while Reliance would be severely handicapped, having to allow something like fifteen minutes over the cup course. This she would be unable to do and Constitution would be more available under the circumstances. This fact would probably cause a hitch in the negotiations as many members of the New York Yacht club object to any conditions that will bar Reliance, desiring to see her once more the cup's defender.

ELIMINATING TRIALS FOR VANDERBILT CUP CONTEST

Standard Cars, Driven By Noted Chauffeurs, Will Compete Tomorrow For Places In Great Races.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 21.—Everything is in readiness for the eliminating trials tomorrow to decide what American automobiles shall be eligible to compete in the Vanderbilt cup races next month. The Long Island course is in fine order, the grandstands are completed and the 15 contestants have their cars tuned up and ready for the best of which they are capable. Mineola, Garden City and the other towns in the vicinity of the course will be the mecca today for the thousands who will go down in cars or by rail so as to be on hand when the races are started, as a struggle is in prospect that for speed and daring has never been equalled in this or any other country.

This year's race has aroused greater interest than any other ever held in this country, both from a spectator's point of view and from that of the manufacturer. Realizing the value of winning such an event the latter took up the matter in earnest this year and have expended $350,000 in building special cars for the race. Last year a large percentage of those entered were stock cars, stripped and prepared for the race. This year it is different and it is confidently believed by Americans that one result of the months of experiment and preparation will be a surprise party for the foreign cars.

Following the precedent set in 1904 and 1905, the commission have selected a course for the third running of the race that differs markedly from its predecessor. There is a divergence of opinion as to whether the new course is faster or slower than the old one, also as to whether it is less dangerous or more so. The new course is as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of Perich turnpike and Mineola avenue, easterly through Jericho, and East Norwich road to East Norwich at McQueen's; then westerly along the Flushing and North Hempstead turnpike to Bull's Head corner at Greenvale; then southerly over the back road, so called, to old Westbury; then westerly to Mineola road, then northerly to the Flushing, and North Hempstead turnpike; then westerly over this road through the village of Manhasset to the junction of the Lakeville road; then southerly to Lakeville; then easterly to Scarsington; then southerly over Mineola avenue road to the starting point.

This route has eleven corners, as compared with seven last year, but it is claimed by those in a position to know the difficulties confronting drivers in such a competition that all eleven will not offer cup dangers as did the lesser number of a year ago. There is but one turn that is regarded as really dangerous. This is known as the "hairpin turn" and is located at the junction of the back road with the old Westbury road, at Old Westbury. Much extra caution will have to be used in rounding this turn, but all the drivers to make the race tomorrow have had ten days' practice over the course so that they have become familiar with the "hairpin," thus reducing to a minimum the chances for a collision or accident.

The eliminating trial, as well as the big race on October 6, will be ten times around the circuit, making a total of about 295 miles. The time required for the race is calculated at from four and a half hours to five hours. Last year's cup race of 283 miles was won in four hours, thirty-six minutes and eight seconds.

There is much speculation, on the prospects of the different cars entered for the trial tomorrow, with few experts agreeing as to the order in which the cars should be placed. The official list of entries of the fifteen cars that will compete in the eliminating trials includes: car, driver, horsepower: Pope Toledo, Lyle, 120; B. L. M. Breese; Oldsmobile, Keeler; Matheson, Mongini, 115; Thomas, Callois, 115; Thomas, LeBlond, 115; Thomas, Roberts, 115; Haynes, Haynes, 50; Frayer-Miller, Frayer, 110; Frayer-Miller, Belden, 110; Frayer-Miller, Moscovics, 110; Christie, Christie, Locomobile, Tracy, 110; Apperson, Robertson, 50; Maxwell, Betz.

BABCOCK WANTED
IN WASHINGTONVICTORY OVER LA FOLLETTE OPPOSITION CAUSE OF JOY.

MINOR WILL BE MISSED

Was Considered Most Efficient Members of Committee on Buildings and Public Grounds.
 (By William Wolf Smith.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(Special Correspondence.)—Some months ago Senator La Follette and his forces in Wisconsin set about to retire from congress three able members, namely, Representatives Edward W. Miner, Joseph W. Babcock and William H.
 Stafford. Senator La Follette opposed these three because of their antagonism to him and the principle enunciated by him, and therefore worked with might and main to unhorse them from their positions in the national legislature. The senator was successful in but one instance, and that victory of his is to be deeply regretted by those who are familiar with the administration of affairs in Washington. Mr. La Follette succeeded in depriving Representative Edward S. Minor, who has represented the Ninth Congressional district of Wisconsin in congress continuously since March 4, 1895, of a seat in the 60th congress which convenes in December, 1907.
 The news of the defeat of Mr. Minor has been received with regret in Washington, where he had a host of friends who were drawn to him by his honesty and fearlessness. During the greater part of his twelve years in congress Mr. Minor has been a conscientious and hard-working member of the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, around which so much interest has centered because of the presence there of the much-discussed and abused ship subsidy bill. The old shipping bill, which had many flaws by reason of its being drafted for the benefit of rich and powerful steamship companies in this country, met with Mr. Minor's staunchest opposition. He believed in rebuilding the ocean carrying trade of the country, but opposed the giving of millions of dollars to corporations engaged in that trade. During the last session of congress he championed the new shipping bill, drafted by the merchant marine commission, of which he was a member. His loss in congress will be felt also in the committee on public buildings and grounds, where his close scrutiny of the omnibus public buildings bill saved the government many a dollar.

The two members of congress that Senator La Follette failed to retire are Representatives Joseph W. Babcock and William H. Stafford. Representative Babcock was for twelve years the successful manager of the republican congressional campaign committee and retired recently in order to devote more time to campaigning in his district, where considerable opposition to him had been stirred up by the La Follette forces. There is no doubt that had Mr. Babcock continued as chairman of the congressional committee he would have lost his nomination for congress this time.
 Mr. Babcock has also been a conspicuous figure in the house of representatives having entered congress on March 4, 1893, in which he has served continuously. For a number of years he has been the spokesman of the District of Columbia in legislations before congress, holding the chairmanship of the committee on the District of Columbia. He was instrumental in having passed by congress the bill authorizing the construction of the new union depot in Washington, which will replace anything of its kind in the world. He also holds a place on the committee on ways and means. The opposition of Senator La Follette to Mr. Babcock has been of long standing but the astute Wisconsin statesman's tact and generosity have won the day.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or

Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claim then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results.
 In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were received. From a hundred or more reports we have space to publish only a few of the latest but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall ine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

 to my friends who have also had the same benefits."

From Jacob Anthony, Pottsville,
 New Jersey: "I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for 6 years, and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets soon took right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets."

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: "I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

ership has again proven too much for La Follette forces.

The other target at which the La Follette forces fired their ammunition during the summer was Representative William H. Stafford. The congressional man was charged with being a party to what La Follette terms a "National Steel" in the matter of pay to the railroad companies for the transportation of the mails. Mr. Stafford is a member of the committee on postoffices and postroads which had charge of this question, and voted with his colleagues of long experience in the matter. Mr. Stafford has only been a member of the 58th and 59th congresses. It was quite natural for him to follow the lead of his associates on the committee on a matter of such importance. Reports coming from Wisconsin indicate that Mr. Stafford will pull through the election in November, although probably by a reduced majority.

If the efforts of the commissioners to rule out Washington are successful, Washington will soon be the ideal city. There are just now trying to eliminate all noises, and have a "Smiley, quiet reign" all the days of the week. Hereafter, there will be only one day in the year when noises will be permitted on the streets—July 4. The commissioners have pushed the changing of the fire alarm bells, and are now after those of the churches. When they get rid of them, they propose to attack the budy guardies and street pianos of the Italians and take away one of the prerogatives of that indolent race. What are we coming to? No church bells to call us to worship; no street pianos to soothe our senses into languorous slumber; nor cries of "Morning paper." Here's your fresh sea food, are to be permitted. Loud sneezing, boisterous laughings are to be tabooed.
 On the streets we are to be as silent and decorous as the Salem pilgrims in the good old days of the blue laws. Quiet is to reign, and all who wander about the streets must speak in hushed tones, as if they were walking with the ghosts in a "desert cemetery." The question arises whether the commissioners intend to stop the pretty buzzing of the "Presidential" bell about the ears of visiting statesmen?

"There has been no doubt in the minds of all well-informed people of our state for some time as to what the result will be in West Virginia this year," said George Wise of Wheeling, who recently resigned the chairmanship of the state republican committee on account of ill health.
 "The one democratic member from the state will be missing in the next congress," continued Mr. Wise. "For Mr. Davis declined to again be the democratic candidate in the second district, and while we believe the republicans could have defeated any man the democrats might have nominated, their selection of Mr. Dent makes the election of Mr. Sturgis, our candidate, an absolute certainty.
 There is nothing in the political situation with us to cause uneasiness."
 "West Virginia is keeping pace with the other states in industrial progress. During the past year we have constructed several miles of railroad and there has been great activity in the development of our coal fields. Prosperity is to be found everywhere throughout the state and with such favorable conditions the voter is not liable to be seized with political unrest."

Senator Bacon does not take kindly to the proposition advanced by Mr. Bryan for the government to go into the railroad ownership business.
 Senator Bacon is regarded as one of the most conservative and business minded of the republican party, and a very conservative statesman. He is now enjoying a few days' rest at Atlantic City, and his opinion is being sought by the leaders of his party in other states than Georgia. Of Bryan's scheme he says:

"In its practical operations, it would be the most extreme and radical measure of paternalistic socialism. I can think of a score of strong and sufficient reasons against it, and scarcely one good reason for it—certainly not one that is not counterbal-anced tenfold degree by the evils which it would entail. It would be impracticable for the government to maintain and operate two hundred and twenty thousand miles of railway economically and honestly, and build the new lines that would be required as well. It would present the most inviting and unlimited field for graft and thievery the world ever saw. The very great majority of the officers and operatives doubtless would be honest men, but the grafters and thieves could not be kept out. The spoil would be too immense, too rich, and too inviting. And in the complications of so vast and intricate a system covering a continent few of the grafters and thieves would ever be caught. The government would not be bankrupted only because it is too rich and resourceful to be bankrupted by anything; but it would nevertheless have to put its hand deep down into the pockets of the people to prevent it. The fact that the postoffice department is successfully run by the government is no evidence to the contrary of this. The railroad business of the United States is, in its magnitude, scope, intricacies, and difficulties one hundred times greater than that of the postoffice department."

All the "White Boys" in Washington are sprucing up. They are also wearing their coats tightly buttoned these days to keep their thumping hearts from jumping out of their bodies. Why? Because there are 251 young southern beauties in town and they came from Radnor college, Nashville, Tennessee. There are tall girls, short girls, blonde girls and brunettes —and each one a beauty. Is it any wonder the Johnnies are forsaking the stage doors to follow in the train of this delectable delegation?

President Eshman of Radnor college, who is conducting the sightseeing tour, said: "This is the ninth annual educational tour which has been made by Radnor college. Our party includes not only the students of the college proper, but those who are taking the preparatory course as well.
 We will probably remain here two weeks and during that time hope to see all that a tourist can observe in your beautiful city."

Radnor college is a new institution that has been established by the faculty management of the Southern Female college at West Point, Mississippi. Although little may be known here regarding the educational features of Radnor college, thing is certain the hot sports of the capital will give all kinds of yells and tigers for the fair students.

"Perhaps there is no man in congress who relishes a joke on himself better than does Representative Cushman of Washington. Mr. Cushman does not pose as a great orator, but knows that he can make a right neat speech when the occasion requires it, and a very effective one when he takes a notion. Not long ago out in his own state he was called upon rather suddenly and unexpectedly to make a speech, and he made it the occasion of telling a story at his own expense. He opened his speech after this manner:

Mr. Chairman, and fellow citizens:
 As I rise to my feet on this occasion to make a few remarks, I am reminded of a compliment I once received from the Hon. Joseph C. Cannon, who is now the speaker of the house of representatives, on one of my speeches in Washington. The occasion was a banquet, and I was looked as one of the speakers. I had made some preparations, as I had been informed that a speech would be expected from me, and when I was through I flattered myself I had handed to the company a very warm speech; and the company seemed to think so, too; but I wanted a compliment from Uncle Joe, who did not show any signs of giving one, so I concluded to fish for it. My seat was next that of the speaker, and I leaned over and asked him what he thought of my speech. He replied:
 'My boy, there were some good things in that speech of yours, and he pansed to light his cigar before concluding his compliment, and then continued, 'but the trouble with your speech is that the good things are not new, and the new things are not good.'"

Representative Calderhead of Kansas is not worrying about the result of the congressional election in his state as he is confident all of the present solid republican delegation will be returned to congress in the November election. He says the people of Kansas are satisfied with the administration of affairs by his party and with the legislation enacted by congress. Their chief trouble, says Mr. Calderhead, lies in their immense crops, fears for the proper gathering of which are entertained by the agriculturists of the state. He says the industrial enterprises of Kansas are working overtime to keep pace with the constantly growing demand for their products, and labor finds no difficulty in securing high pay and steady employment. "So far as I am able to judge," says Mr. Calder-head, "I see no cloud on the horizon and every one of our members will be returned by the usual majorities republicans have received in recent years."

STARTED CLIMBING
LIBRARY LADDERS

Graded School Pupils Take up Outside Reading Work—Many New Cards Issued.

Every year all pupils in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the public schools are given lists of books recommended for reading during out of school hours. These are called ladders and the students are encouraged to climb. The lists for 1906-07 were distributed yesterday and the day before and already the annual rush in the children's room of the public library has commenced.
 This year Miss Hathorn, children's librarian, prepared a list for the third grade pupils and as a result many boys and girls will not doubt contract the valuable habit of reading. Yesterday afternoon fifteen new cards were issued to children and by the end of the week this number will be multiplied several times.

LET FROSTS COME!
CORN IS SAFE NOW

Only a Little Damage Could Possibly Be Done to Fodder—Finest Crop in Twelve Years.

With the reduction of the temperature last night people were reminded that frost will soon be felt. There is little danger of any damage being done and the hay fever sufferers it would be most welcome. The corn is perfectly safe. In fact, it is one of the finest crops ever raised in Rock county. Farmers state that the crop is the best in twelve years and are now cutting. The only damage a frost could do now is to slightly injure the fodder.

Credit to State.

La Crosse Chronicle. The city of Milwaukee is going to have an auditorium of ample capacity and spend-architecture. The sum already raised for that purpose is so near to the amount required that there is no longer doubt of the complete success of the auditorium project. Its promoters are entitled to great credit.

Gospel Truth.

Beloit Free Press: Seventy-five or eighty per cent. or more of the population of Janesville want an interurban railroad running north to Mantona but there are a few who don't want it, and these few seem to have a pull on enough aldermen to make a grant of the necessary franchise by the city council considerably in doubt. There are conditions sometimes in the life of municipalities when this proposed "recall" law would serve an excellent service, provided the will of a great majority is paramount to the whim of a minority.

AGAIN RECALLED
SCENES OF WARTHIRD REGIMENT CLOSED SIX-TEENTH ANNUAL REUNION
HERE.

LOVE FEAST LAST EVENING

Add A Townsend Told of United Veterans' Camp Fires in South —Interesting Addresses.

In company with a hundred friends, largely members of the Grand Army, Woman's Relief Corps and Daughters of the American Revolution, the veterans of the Third Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry of the civil war, brought their sixteenth annual reunion to close here last evening with a love feast.
 The meeting was held in the East Side Odd Fellows' hall and the program was very interesting. To the old soldiers it was more, for nothing is dearer to their heart than the recollections of the days when, enduring unspeakable hardships and far from home and relatives, they fought to preserve the union and wipe out the blot of slavery.

Welcome and Response.
 The campfire opened with bugle calls, the same calls by which the third regiment was given orders more than forty years ago. They were given by Ed Aldridge and F. A. Smith, expert buglers from the drum corps attached to the Wolcott Post, G. A. R. of Milwaukee. Mrs. E. O. Kimberley then gave the address of welcome, extending hearty greetings in behalf of the city. Her remarks were most cordial and she spoke from her heart, as the chairman of the executive committee in charge of reunion, as a member of the Woman's Relief Corps and as a daughter of the Revolution. She was followed by Col. George W. Stevenson of Shullsburg, who gave the response. He said this was the second meeting the regiment had held here and that the hospitable and respectful reception was appreciated. All were ever glad to visit the patriotic and beautiful city of Janesville.

Mrs. Winifred and Mrs. Day.
 Last year at Beloit Mrs. Corinne Winifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
 J. F. Carle, was elected daughter of the regiment and last evening she was a prominent figure in the reunion. She led the singing of "Marching Through Georgia" and rendered a vocal solo and encore. Her selections were "The Good Old U. S. A." and "I Want to be a Soldier." Mrs. Janet B. Day, as an honorary member of the Veterans' Association, to which she was chosen two years ago, was present.
 She said since childhood there have always been three sorts of gatherings which she most enjoyed to attend.
 They are old settlers' picnic, a farmers' convention and an old soldiers' reunion. Mrs. Day then read, in her usual pleasing manner, a description of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate at Freeport. Following her number on the program, Ed Aldridge offered a drum solo and so inspiring was it that he was called for a second number.
 Then at the request of President Carle the "long roll" which calls to battle was given—and some one cried "fall in."

President Carle's Address.
 J. F. Carle, as retiring president, gave the annual address. He said there was nothing the veterans enjoyed so much as a reunion, where the old boys gathered to relate tales of battle, sing the old songs and recall the scenes of "61-65." "Cause, amid these things of friendship were everlastingly fresh. Continuing he said, no matter how much of a slaver a veteran might be he was an American citizen and he fought for some of the liberties which we all enjoy. In congratulatory strain he remarked that though habits were formed in the war days, it was matter of record that the per cent of old soldiers that had fallen low was smaller than the per cent in any other body of men and among all the graft exposes of recent date none had implicated a veterans of the civil war. The credit for this record he gave to the mothers, the strength of the nation.
 In closing Mr. Carle thanked the executive committee; Miss Maria Gibbs, who had pleasantly surprised the soldiers by prettily decorating the hall; Lucy May Swift who presented each speaker with a bouquet of flowers and the buglers.

Campfires in South.
 Add A Townsend, an ex-president of the association read a paper. He has spent the past five winters in Alabama and Mississippi and he told of the United Veterans' campfires which are held at Citronelle, a city a little to the north of Mobile. These Confederate and Federal veterans gather every winter and enjoy a love feast.
 There the new south's spirit of friendliness to the north is most evident.
 The reunion ended with the enthusiastic singing of "America" and the sounding of "taps."

A Lively Corpse.
 Chicago Chronicle: We continue to hear the announcement that J. Edward Addicks is finally and conclusively extinguished politically, and as the cor-ality assertion that he is "dead broke" it may be true; but we have heard similar statements during the last ten years and yet J. Edward has bobbed up serenely after every one of his reported demises. We are, therefore, always inclined to suspect when we hear that Addicks is politically defunct that the accounts of his death are "greatly exaggerated," as Mark Twain might say. The gas man has as many lives as a cat.

Expert Authority.
 Jefferson County Union. The primary election in Wisconsin yesterday was the first ever held in any state for nominating simultaneously all candidates of all parties—resulted in the choice of Lieut. Gov. James O. Davidson over Speaker Irvine L. Lenroot of the assembly for the republican gubernatorial nomination. The outcome is rightly regarded as a defeat for La Follette, who has been speaking for Lenroot throughout the state; but aside from this personal aspect it represents one of the most interesting stages the long Wisconsin fight has yet reached.

All things taken into consideration, the query would seem to be entirely pertinent.

Up in Greenland.
Marquette Eagle-Star: There is much speculation as to the kind of a winter that will follow the hot summer we have just experienced. For several years before 1906, cold weather has extended through winter and summer, and the climate was called all kinds of names by people who hoped for some comfort without the continued use of coal and flannels. Weather forecasting is a fruitless business and it is always safest to prepare for the worst, although it may be said that weather prophets are declaring that the coming winter will be unusually mild. These prognostications may or may not come true, but they at least cast a pleasant glow over the household where fuel bills have eaten up the savings for several years past.

TOO MUCH AMENDMENT.

If the amendments suggested at the meeting yesterday afternoon are demanded it does not require supernatural vision to discover the fact that the Madison Interurban franchise is as dead as a last year's mackerel.

It is much easier to kill an enterprise than to promote it and in this case the complaints of a few timid citizens seem to outweigh all other considerations.

The fact is ignored that it is worth something to the city and county to have a million of outside capital invested or that it requires any effort to secure this money.

The argument is used that fifty years is a long way ahead and it won't do to make any mistakes. Why, bless you, the most of us will be dead long before that time, and if any halo attaches to our memory it will be because the city enjoys advantages secured by our thoughtfulness and enterprise.

In the list of amendments suggested there isn't one that weighs a far thing compared to the advantages that will accrue.

If the Interurban line is built and the local line revamped, and improved the men behind the enterprise will be as much interested in Janesville as any local capitalists and the interests of the city will be carefully conserved.

Railroads, whether steam or interurban, are the best heritage that any city enjoys and no city has too many farmer to lay around the house until eight o'clock in the morning and knock off at five in the afternoon, but why not? If the government employe is entitled to an eight-hour day why not the farmhand? This is the argument that will be used.

The manufacturer who is crowded with orders and whose brain is busy planning all day and half the night may object to the short day, but why should he, when the government gets the pace?

It is a debatable question whether or not the President has acted wisely in entering the industrial world with an eight-hour proclamation.

The city of Washington is unlike any other city in the land. It is a city of public servants and nine-tenths of its population are employes.

The average clerk is at his desk from nine o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon at salaries ranging from $1,200 a year up. He is not overworked and the people pay him without complaint. Men employed in manual labor at the navy yard, printing office, and other places are no better than thousands of others in the employ of individuals and corporations. Yet a government employe is always an object of envy. They have no incentive to earn more than their wages and seldom do.

It is a detriment to labor whether in public or private employ to treat it as a unit. The best inheritance that a man possesses is his individuality. When this is destroyed he becomes a machine.

The man who works by the clock never measures up to the full stature of manhood. The world is waiting for men who do things, not by the clock, but through ambition prompted by energy to get to the front regardless of time or circumstances.

Any policy which tends to make time-servers of men is a detriment to labor whether in government or any other employ.

Let's have the Interurban and think about it afterwards.

MR. FRED BELL,

Y. M. C. A., Janesville, Wis.

The time to do things is now.

Janesville has been dealing largely in futures for the last forty years, with but little to show for it.

The parcel post is simply another reform measure which will play havoc with retail merchants and help to build up the mail order houses. The movement will bear watching.

The Cuban riots are likely to be quelled without much bloodshed. Secretary Taft and the United States navy are strong arguments for peace.

CONCESSIONS TO THE OBJECTIONS

MR. CLOUGH LIBERAL IN HIS IDEAS OF FRANCHISE.

MUST HAVE FREIGHT CLAUSE

People Want the Road and Council Has Nothing to Do Now

But Pass It.

After the Judiciary Committee of the Council and the Citizens' Committee appointed at the mass meeting held last Monday at the City Hall really got down to business yesterday afternoon and several of the members of both committees had spoken, the suggestion was made that the objections to the franchise, as printed in the Gazette, should be taken up one at a time and discussed. The council committee in a meeting Wednesday had formulated the following clauses in place of those in the franchise. First, the council wished the Interurban Company should pay their proportion of the cost of new bridges over which their tracks should run and pay their proportion of the repairs on the same. Second, that the tracks of the Madison-Janesville Railway should not parallel the tracks of the present interurban road. Third, that the word "package" should be inserted before the word "freight," making it read "package freight," and thus cutting out the carrying of all freight except in packages.

Still More. Fourth, that the Madison-Janesville road should lay their tracks at the present surface level of the streets and not at the established grade. Fifth, that the Madison-Janesville road should file thirty days before starting work, a statement of what streets they wished to operate on and abandon the right to use the other streets mentioned in the franchise. Sixth, that the Madison-Janesville road should establish a freight-house and passenger depot and guarantee a suitable city service. Eighth, that no steam cars should be allowed on the streets.

Have Conference. As soon as these objections had been noted Mr. Jeffris and the citizens committee together with Mr. Clough retired for an hours conference. On their return Mr. Jeffris made the report that Mr. Clough was willing to accede to certain of the changes suggested but not to others. Mr. Clough was willing to strike out the live stock carrying clause as is set forth in the franchise. Mr. Jeffris said at the beginning of his report that Mr. Clough had said that he must have a reasonably liberal and certain franchise before he could attempt to do business at all and that the franchise as printed was drawn on the same lines as other towns of the same size were giving to interurban roads in other parts of the country. Mr. Jeffris said that in his opinion, the freight carrying clause was immaterial since the only possible freight at the present time was the sugar beets for the Sugar Factory and as only two cars could be run at once, that is, a motor and a trailer, it would not be possible to carry freight in such small quantities.

No Steam Cars. Mr. Clough was willing to keep steam cars off from the Main and Milwaukee streets and to have a provision to that effect inserted in the franchise. Mr. Clough also stated that he had no doubt that he could make arrangements with the Janesville-Rockford Road to use their tracks on Franklin street, but that unless he had something definite to offer them in return he could promise nothing certain. As to filing an election of the streets to be used thirty days before beginning work on them Mr. Clough said that was not material and he would accede to the request of the council, but that he thought that the council should reserve the right to grant other streets if the business of the road should be such that he would need all the streets mentioned in the franchise and possibly others.

Another Idea. Striking out the clause with regard to buying the franchise of the present city railway was said to be immaterial, since if they bought the road they would have all the rights now held by the city railway under either franchise. With regard to placing the rails as near the present surface as practicable, Mr. Clough said that he wished that some certain line could be fixed to go by, otherwise every time a street was improved on which the road ran, he would have to tear up and relays his tracks. In answer to the request, he should not wait till the city had to use his passenger cars, he said that he could not do this as it would cost so much as to make the road a loss since no railway could do that and make money in a city of less than 25,000. He said that the provision as to paying would have to remain as it was in the franchise as published.

Interurban Cars. A request as to a more definite statement in the franchise as to the kind of car was considered immaterial by the citizens committee as Mr. Clough said he had no intention of running anything but especially constructed interurban cars. As to the city service he said he was willing to have a provision inserted for not less than a half-hour service and that he would give a twenty minute service from the first and a shorter one when conditions were favorable.

Freight House. The Madison-Janesville line is willing to build a freight house and when the amount of passenger traffic will call for it a passenger depot, but until then he does not feel called upon to do it.

In answer to the request that the Madison-Janesville road should bear its proportion of the maintenance of bridges, Mr. Clough said that other towns had not required that and that the wear on the bridge from such a road was too small to be considered.

Another Road. Mr. Clough at the beginning of the meeting stated that he was perfectly willing that a provision should be inserted in the franchise that if another road of like nature should wish to come in here in the future, either the Madison-Janesville Road should allow it to use the tracks of the Madison-Janesville road, or else allow the council to grant to the future road the right of laying its own tracks in any street in which the council should grant the future road the right to do so.

All Concessions. It seemed to be the opinion of those present at the meeting who heard the objection, stand the answers that Mr. Clough had made all reasonable concessions to the opposers of the present franchise. As he stated at the beginning of the session he thought he could take over the present city railway and with an interurban franchise make it a paying proposition and also help the city. He also stated that the franchise as asked was drawn on the same general lines as those granted in other cities of the same size and condition in other parts of the country, and that they had been found practicable and satisfactory to both the cities and the roads.

The Opposition. Mr. John Cunningham appeared for certain South Main street property owners. He stated that the men whom he represented were opposed to carrying freight on South Main street and that if such a franchise should be granted that the council should at the very least make careful rules and regulations as to the times of hauling such freight and that they were opposed to allowing any freight at all to be carried.

Another Kick. J. J. Cunningham spoke for the Milwaukee Ave. property owners and advocated a change in the route sufficient to get around their objections. Mr. Clough said that they could take up that matter outside and that as the proposed route had been laid out by an engineer he had no doubt that an amicable settlement could be reached.

Patrick Joyce. Martin Joyce of the town of Johnston received the sad announcement today of the death of his father, Patrick Joyce, in Seattle, Washington. No particulars of the demise were given and no arrangements regarding the funeral or burial can be made as yet. The deceased had been visiting his son in the west for about three months. Patrick Joyce was nearly four score years of age and had been a resident of Rock county for about forty years. He was prominent and well known in the district where he lived and many will mourn his death. His wife preceded him to the world beyond about five years ago, but children survive. They are: John, Michael and James Joyce and Mrs. Caniff, who reside in the state of Washington; Mrs. John Harrington of Minnesota, and Martin Joyce of Johnston.

One Generation to Another," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by HARPER & BROTHERS

"It is my business," she sobbed. "It is no good, pretending otherwise; but I can do nothing."

Four months elapsed and the excitement created in the small world of western Africa by the first dazzling success of the simiaine expedition began to subside. The thing took its usual course. At first the experts disbelieved and then they prophesied that it could not last. Finally the active period of envy, hatred and malice gave way to a sullen tolerance not unminged with an indefinite grudge toward Fortune who had favored the brave once more.

Maurice Gordon was in daily expectation of news from that faroff favored spot they vaguely called the plateau. And Jocelyn did not pretend to conceal from herself the hope that filled her whole being, the hope that Jack Meredith might bring the news in person.

Instead came Victor Durnovo. He came upon her one evening when she was walking slowly home from a mild tea party at the house of a missionary. Hearing footsteps on the sandy soil, she turned and found herself face to face with Durnovo.

"I was coming along to see you," he said, and there was a subtle offense in his tone.

She did not trouble to tell him that Maurice was away for ten days. She felt that he knew that.

"When do you go back?" she asked carefully.

"Almost at once," in a tone that apologized for causing her necessary pain. "I must leave tomorrow, or the next day. I do not like the idea of Meredith being left too long alone up there with a reduced number of men. Of course, I had to bring a pretty large escort. I brought down 400,000 worth of simiaine."

"Have you had any more sickness among the men?" she asked at once in a tone of half veiled sarcasm which made him wince.

"No," he answered; "they have been quite all right."

"What time do you start?" she asked. "There are letters for Mr. Meredith at the office. Maurice's head clerk will give them to you."

She knew that these letters were from Meredith. She had actually had them in her hand. She had inhaled the faint, refined scent of the paper and envelopes.

They had reached the gate of the bungalow garden. She turned and held out her hand in an undeniable manner. He bade her goodby and went his way, wondering vaguely what had happened to them both. The conversation had taken a different turn from what he had expected and intended. But somehow it had got beyond his control. He had looked forward to a very different ending to the interview. And now he found himself returning somewhat disconsolately to the wretched hotel in Loango—dismissed—sent back. The next day he actually left the little west African coast town, turning his face northward with bad grace. Even at that distance he feared Jack Meredith's half veiled sarcasm. Durnovo had only been allowed to come down to the coast under a promise, gracefully veiled, but distinct enough, that he should only remain twenty hours in Loango.

Jocelyn avoided seeing him again. Four days later she was riding through the native town of Loango, accompanied by a lady friend, when she met Victor Durnovo. The sight of him gave her a distinct shock. She knew that he had left Loango three days before with all his men. There was no doubt about that. Moreover, his air was distinctly furtive—almost scared. It was evident that the chance meeting was as undesired by him as it was surprising to her.

"I thought you had left," she said shortly, pulling up her horse with undeniable decision.

"Yes, but I have come back for—for more men."

She knew he was lying, and he felt that she knew.

"Indeed," she said. "You are not a good starter."

She turned her horse's head, nodded to her friend, bowed coldly to Durnovo and trotted toward home. In the forest she applied the spur, and beneath the whispering trees, over the silent sand, the girl galloped home as fast as her horse could lay legs to ground.

CHAPTER XV.

ON nearing the bungalow Jocelyn turned aside into the forest where a little colony of huts nestled in a hollow of the sand dunes.

"Naia," she cried, "the paddlemaker. Ask him to come to me."

In a few moments a man emerged from a shed of banana leaves. He was a scraggy man, very lightly clad, and a violent squint handicapped him seriously in the matter of first impressions.

"I came to you," said Jocelyn, "because I know that you are an intelligent man, and a great traveler."

"Where do you wish me to go?"

"To Msala, on the Ogowe river. When can you leave?"

"Now."

"You can like a show," she said, "and on the river you may have as many rowers as you like. You must go very quickly to Msala. There you must ask about the Englishman's expedition."

Some of the men are at Msala now. They were going up country to join the other Englishmen far away—near the mountains. They have stopped at Msala. Find out why they have not gone on, and come back very quickly to tell me."

She gave him money and rode on home. Before she reached the bungalow the paddlemaker passed her at a trot, going toward the sea.

She waited for three days, and then Victor Durnovo came again. Maurice was still away. There was an awful sense of impending danger in the very air, in the loneliness of her position. Yet she was not afraid of Durnovo. She had left that fear behind. She went to the drawing room to see him full of resolution.

"I could not go away," he said after relinquishing her hand, "without coming to see you."

Jocelyn said nothing. The scared look which she had last seen in his face was no longer there, but the eyes were full of lies.

"Jocelyn," the man went on, "I suppose you know that I love you. Will you marry me?" he asked.

Letter to Mr. F. A. Taylor, Janesville, Wisconsin.

Dear Sir: The experience of other owners or property, to be painted, ought to be worth something to you. Mr. W. B. B. Howell, of Carthage, Ill., painted his house two years ago with Devco lead-and-zinc Paint used a bright red for the body and trimmed with white.

The painter said the red would fade, and that the white wouldn't cover one coat over the dark ground. There hasn't faded yet, and the white did cover one coat perfectly. Those painters had something to learn, too.

Yours truly,

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, September 21, 1866.—Auction Sale of Lumber.—Tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock the officers of the Rock County Agricultural Society will sell on the grounds of the society 22,000 feet of lumber. All aboard.

Elegant Furniture of Home Manufacture.—The fact may not be generally known that some of the very handsomest sets of parlor furniture in the market are manufactured here. Messrs. Britton & Harrison are turning out goods of that kind which are giving great satisfaction. They have also a large stock of common goods.

Frost.—We were visited last night by quite a severe frost, which must injure the corn crop considerably. One gentleman of good judgment sets down the crop at only twenty-five per cent of what it was last year. This we think is made too low, but it cannot be denied that crop is at least a partial failure. It has made little or no progress in ripening for the last three or four weeks so constant has been the rainy weather. The season must be set down on the whole as a disastrous one to the farmers.

Rock River Improvement.—Col. Worrall writes as follows from Watertown yesterday in reference to the route between Horicon and Watertown. It is most encouraging.

"We came in here with a beautiful line, affording a chance for basin, etc., near the railway junctions. The distance from Horicon scarcely exceeds thirteen miles and indeed our whole line from Fond du Lac here rivals the railway and common road distances in shortness. This is very rare for canals."

Close Series This Saturday.—Paid by Subscriptions from the Businessmen.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

The aches and pains of Rheumatism are only symptoms which may be scattered or relieved with liniments, plasters, blisters, etc., or quieted with opiates. As soon as the treatment is left off, however, or there is any exposure to dampness, or an attack of indigestion, the nagging pains, sore muscles and tender places on the flesh return, and the sufferer finds that he has merely checked the symptoms, while the real cause remains in the system. The cause of Rheumatism is a too acid condition of the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. Waste matter collects in the system each day which nature intends shall be carried off, but when it is left because of a sluggish condition of the system it sours and forms uric and other acids. These are taken up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body to produce the pains and aches of Rheumatism. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and driving out the cause and making this life stream pure and healthy. When the blood has been purified and built up by S. S. S. the pains and aches pass away, the muscles become soft and elastic, and Rheumatism driven from the system. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free.

The tenth annual Baptist banquet and church day celebration was held last night at the church. This festival is to review the work of the coming one and short reports were given by all the church organizations, some of them in poetry. The Rev. Catchpole asked the blessing and over four hundred and seventy-five members of the church and congregation sat down to the banquet. Three deacons were elected: J. T. Fitchett, Eugene Currier, and A. C. Campbell. L. K. Crissey was chosen superintendent of the Sunday School and P. W. Dunwiddie and A. P. Loveloy elected as trustees of the church. The Rev. Vernon Phillips of Marengo, Ill., delivered the address of the evening on the "Continuity of Service." His idea was that there was in everything a certain continuity, a time of sowing and of reaping. He said that each of us should strive both to sow and to reap. The following program was given: Pastor R. M. Vaughan, Toastmaster The Minute Man..... J. T. Fitchett The Sings of War..... W. E.
